

Turtle and Tortoise Care Sheets

Turtle and Tortoise Care Sheets

Aldabra Tortoise Care Sheet

Aldabra tortoises are found on the islands of the Aldabra Atoll in the Seychelles, and they are one of the largest tortoises in the world.

By Ken Foose Asian Box Turtle Care Sheet

The Asian box turtle is a decent beginner turtle. Sometimes called “ambos,” these turtles have a black or dark brown carapace.

By Al Roach Leopard Tortoise Care Sheet

The leopard tortoise is the second largest tortoise native to Africa.

By Jerry D. Fife Mata Mata Turtle Care Sheet

The mata mata turtle is one of the neatest-looking turtles on the planet.

By Al Roach Ornate Box Turtle Care Sheet

The ornate box turtle embodies every bit of the spirit and character that is associated with the Midwestern United States.

By Ian Jessup Pink-Bellied Side-Necked Turtle Care Sheet

The pink-bellied side-necks truly is one of the best community turtles available.

By Marcus Cantos Red-Footed Tortoise Care Sheet

Red-footed tortoises are easy to acquire, simple to take care of, remain a size that most can easily handle, and they show amazing colorations.

By Tyler Stewart Russian Tortoise Care Sheet

Russian tortoises are one of the most readily available tortoise species. They are small, making them easy for most people with limited space to keep.

By Tyler Stewart Spotted Turtle Care Sheet

The spotted turtle is one of the smallest full-size turtles found in the United States.

By Al Roach Star Tortoise Care Sheet

Indian star tortoises are popular based on their size, personality and appearance.

By Jerry D. Fife Sulcata Tortoise Care Sheet

Sulcata tortoises show an amazing ability to adapt to various climates in captivity, and their low cost combined with a curious personality make them commonly sought after by first-time tortoise owners.

By Tyler Stewart